introduces eleven true stories of escape attempts some of which succeeded and others that failed including escapes from prison concentration camps and an animal shelter in the folklore of world war ii the memory of those heroes who staged great escapes from pow camps still endures but what of the other side of the coin the villains and jack the lads who painstakingly plan their escapes and await their moment at great personal risk for the first time prison break tells the stories of all the most ruthless and desperate bad boys and chancers who broke out of gaol and into the annals of criminal history while no one applauds the escape of a murderer or predator such men are invariably recaptured within a short time but in paul buck s definitive study of notorious prison escapes we share the military style planning and minute by minute tension of more respected convicts those whose major economic or political crimes provide both the criminal support network and the audacious temperament needed to escape from heavy sentences and maximum security conditions in this ground breaking book acclaimed author kati marton brings to life an unknown chapter of world war ii the tale of nine men who grew up in budapest s brief golden age then driven from hungary by anti semitism fled to the west especially to the united states and changed the world these nine men each celebrated for individual achievements were actually part of a unique group who grew up in a time and place that will never come again it is marton s extraordinary achievement to trace what for a few dazzling years was common to all of them the magic air of budapest and show how their separate lives and careers were in fact all shaped by budapest's lively cafe life before the darkness closed in. Marton follows the astonishing lives of four history-changing scientists all just one step ahead of Hitler's terror state who helped usher in the nuclear age and the computer: Edward Teller, John von Neumann, Leo Szilard and Eugene Wigner. Two major movie myth-makers: Michael Curtiz who directed Casablanca and Alexander Korda who produced The Third Man. Two immortal photographers: Robert Capa and Andre Kertesz and one seminal writer: Arthur Koestler. Darkness at Noon. Marton follows these brilliant products of Budapest's golden age as they flee fascism in the 1920s and 1930s en route to sanctuary and immortality as the scientists labor in the secret city of Los Alamos in the race to build the atom bomb. Koestler, once a communist agent imprisoned by Franco, writes the most important anticommunist novel of the century. Capa, the first photographer to go ashore on D-Day later romances Ingrid Bergman and is acknowledged as the world's greatest war photographer before his tragic death in Vietnam. Curtiz not only gives us Casablanca consistently voted the greatest romantic movie ever made but also discovers Doris Day and directs James Cagney in the quintessential patriotic film Yankee Doodle Dandy. Ultimately, The Great Escape is an American story and an important previously untold chapter of the tumultuous last century yet it is also a poignant story in the words of the great historian Fritz Stern: an evocation of genius in exile. An instructive moving delight. An epilogue relates the journey into exile of three members of the next generation of Budapest exiles: financier philanthropist George Soros, Intel founder Andy Grove and 2002 Nobel laureate in literature Imre Kertesz.

The true story of one of the most heroic feats of World War II: the daring prison camp breakout that inspired the classic film The Great Escape. Stalag Luft III was one of the Germans' escape-proof prison camps specially built by Hermann Göring to hold Allied troops but on March 24, 1944, in a courageous attempt by two hundred prisoners to break out through a series of tunnels, seventy-six Allied officers managed to evade capture and create havoc behind enemy lines. In the months before the Normandy invasion, this is the incredible story of these brave men who broke free from the supposedly impenetrable barbed wire and watchtowers of Stalag Luft III and who played an important role in Allied intelligence operations within occupied Europe. The prisoners developed an intricate espionage network relaying details of military deployment, bombings and raids. Some of them were involved in other daring escape attempts including the famous wooden horse episode, also turned into a classic film. And the little-known Sachsenhausen breakout engineered by five great escapees sent to die in the notorious concentration camp. On Hitler's personal orders, tragically, fifty of those involved in the Great Escape were murdered by the Gestapo. Others were recaptured; only a few made it all the way to freedom. This dramatic account of personal heroism is a testament to their ingenuity and achievement. A stirring tribute to the men who never gave up fighting. Includes eight pages of photographs and illustrations, excerpts from Göring's testimony during postwar investigations and a list of the men who escaped.
